

Large Warship
And 9 Or 10 Other
Vessels Damaged

By CHARLES McMURTRY

United States Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, June 22 (AP)—The United States Fifth Fleet sank four and possibly five Japanese ships and damaged nine or ten in a surprise attack between the Philippines and Marianas Monday.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported in a communique that our carrier planes sank one Japanese carrier, three tankers and possibly a destroyer.

Our carrier force under the immediate tactical command of Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher suffered no ship losses and only 49 planes, many of which were forced to land in the water at nightfall. Many pilots may have been rescued.

53 More Planes Shot Down

The action ended at nightfall with the Japanese fleeing and there was no indication that the battle had been resumed.

Admiral Nimitz also announced that 353 enemy planes were shot down in the Japanese futile attempt Sunday on Admiral Mitscher's force. This added 53 enemy craft to the previous estimate of 300 destroyed.

Two U. S. carriers and one battleship suffered "superficial damage" and 21 aircraft were lost in combat. A fleet spokesman said superficial damage means the ship's capacity for battle was not impaired, indicating these three probably participated in Monday's action.

The attack of the Fifth Fleet under command of Adm. Raymond A. Spruance was such a complete surprise that the Japanese apparently made no counter attack against any of our surface units.

Nimitz Reports Official Casualties

Admiral Nimitz, who stayed at his headquarters past midnight receiving battle reports and still appeared bright-eyed despite his 60 years, said the Japanese force consisted of four or more battleships, five or six carriers, five fleet tankers and unspecified number of cruisers and destroyers.

He listed these casualties inflicted on the enemy:

- "One carrier, believed to be the Zuikaku (17,000 tons) received three 1,000 pound bomb hits.
- "One Hayafaka class carrier was severely damaged and left burning furiously.
- "One light carrier (probably around 10,000 tons) Zuho Taiho class received at least one bomb hit.
- "One Kongo class battleship (29,000 tons) was damaged.
- "One cruiser was damaged."
- "Three destroyers were damaged, one of which is believed to have sunk."
- Three tankers were sunk.
- "Two tankers were severely damaged and left burning.
- "Fifteen to 20 defending aircraft were shot down."

Third Defeat To Japanese Fleet

This destruction or damaging of 14 ships was the third greatest single blow dealt the Japanese battle fleet of the war.

The greatest was the battle of Midway in June, 1942, when another carrier force under Admiral Spruance sank four enemy carriers and nearly a score of other ships.

The second biggest defeat was November 13-15, 1942, in the battle off Guadalcanal when the enemy lost more than 30 ships sunk and damaged.

The battle summary for Sunday's and Monday's action shows conclusively why Admiral Nimitz in a Monday press conference stated he hoped the enemy would close with the United States fleet for a decisive naval action.

On Sunday Japanese planes attacked Admiral Spruance's Fifth Fleet. They achieved no surprise. They lost 353 planes—335 to our fighters and eighteen to our ship's anti-aircraft. They inflicted only superficial damage on only three of our ships.

Had Time For One Assault

Admiral Mitscher's carrier force pursued the Japanese. On Monday afternoon it located the Japanese and attacked. There was time for just one assault before nightfall. But in just those two or three hours of daylight his bombers and torpedo planes sank or damaged 14 enemy ships.

They destroyed 15 or 20 Japanese planes which rose in weak defense of the enemy's great force.

And Mitscher's force achieved such surprise that the enemy was not able to counter-attack.

Admiral Mitscher had one advantage Monday. He caught the Japanese with their planes down—down in the ocean.

This enemy fleet which Admiral Mitscher riddled Monday now has been fairly well established as the one which attacked our force Sunday. Loss of 353 planes from its five or six carriers virtually wiped out its planes so that it had to rely largely on anti-aircraft for defense—a defense which proved pretty futile.

Many Plane Crews Rescued

The fact that only 20 Japanese planes were downed Monday further indicates the enemy had very few aircraft to offer resistance.

Our loss of 49 aircraft does not necessarily mean anywhere near that total was lost to enemy action.

Because the battle was closed so late in the day and at nearly extreme range in order to catch the Jap fleet, all of our planes were not able to return to their carriers. Many of these 49 landed in the water and the crews took to rubber life rafts.

Some of these already have been picked up and others undoubtedly were rescued after dawn Tuesday although reports are incomplete.

The Hyataka carrier sunk in the Philippines sea was at least the eighth Japanese flattop sent to the bottom. In ad-

H. H. THOMAS' AGENT CLAIMS TAXES BANKED FOR BOROUGH

The case of the "missing tax collector," lying publicly dormant since the borough council authorized an investigation "to find out who hired the so-called tax collector and what right he has to collect taxes" on June 5, was reopened today when Richard A. Brown, Esq., a representative of former borough tax collector Harry H. Thomas, said that Mr. Thomas had hired the collector as his deputy and that more than $2,600 collected by the collector had been deposited in the borough special fund prior to the June meeting of council.

The town council, following a discussion of the tax collection at its meeting June 5, ordered borough police to investigate the status of what the borough fathers called "so-called delinquent tax collectors" operating in the borough. Borough Policemen Charles W. Culp, Jr., who began the investigation June 6 was reported today to be continuing his search for information.

"None in Treasury"

Council on June 5 raised the question of "Who's getting the taxes, those delinquent collectors are gathering in Gettysburg?"—President H. M. Oyer at that time told council he did not know. Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore told the council none of it had reached the borough treasury.

Mr. Brown, speaking for Mr. Thomas, said that more than $2,600 had been turned over to council prior to June 6. He showed a reporter for The Gettysburg Times the special account book of the borough with a Gettysburg bank which listed amounts deposited from May 9 through the end of that month totalling slightly over $2,600. He said those amounts were the money collected by the delinquent tax collector and placed in the borough fund. Largest amount listed was $1,467.92 deposited in the bank May 29.

Mr. Thomas' representative said that in pursuance of requests from the council that he attempt to clean up back taxes due the borough, Mr. Thomas had first asked Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore to act as deputy collector during Mr. Thomas' absence from town on a war plant job.

Other Collections

"Mr. Basehore collected some of the taxes and charged a 20 per cent commission for collecting," Mr. Brown said. When Mr. Basehore did not appear willing to collect the rest, Mr. Thomas appointed George F. Jamison, a Harrisburg special tax collecting agency, to continue the collection, Mr. Brown added.

The appointment of the Jamison collectors followed "a standard custom in the country," it was stated, with the group previously employed (Please Turn to Page 5)

Couple Observes 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Haller, 136 Steinwehr avenue, quietly celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday at their home here. No special observance was made of the day.

Married June 21, 1894, at the United Brethren church, Frederick, Md., by the Rev. Mr. Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Haller engaged in farming in the Baker's Valley section of Maryland for several years before Mr. Haller accepted an agency with the Metropolitan Life Insurance company in Chambersburg. He retired 16 years ago. A son, Earl G. Haller, employed at the test board of the local United Telephone Co., who lives at 422 West Middle street, is their only child.

BOND CAMPAIGN SMASHES HALF MILLION MARK

Adams county's Fifth War bond campaign smashed the half-million dollar mark with plenty to spare in sales made during the past 24 hours with a grand total to date of $574,955.75.

This represents an increase of $280,530 over the previous day, the largest and most encouraging daily report tabulated since the inception of the campaign on June 12. It is approximately $165,000 short of the one-fourth mark.

"This is the kind of a report that lends encouragement to we bond drive workers," one observer commented this morning. "When we receive reports such as we did during the past 24 hours it makes us feel that our efforts are finally harvesting the desired fruit and that is more and more bond sales."

"Ours is a tremendous task, the largest financial undertaking in the history of the county and we cannot possibly achieve our quota-goal of $2,797,000 unless we have the financial support of every single individual in the county. It appears that we are beginning to get just that kind of support."

Good State Report

Philadelphia, June 22 (AP)—In the greatest 24-hour increase since the start of the Fifth War Loan drive, sales to individuals in Pennsylvania rose yesterday to bring total sales in that bracket to $59,127,803 or 20.16 per cent of the $442,000,000 quota. G. Ruhland Rebmann Jr., chairman of the State War Finance committee, announced today.

Rebmann said the state is ahead of the national average in the bond and individual sales.

Sales of series E bonds rose to $50,553,075, or 22.7 per cent of the $224,000,000 quota in that category, Rebmann said.

Sales in the Fort Pitt area, which includes 19 western Pennsylvania counties, rose to $13,869,490 or 18 per cent of its $71,169,000 quota.

Washington, June 22 (AP)—With bond sales to individuals in the Fifth War Loan at 16 per cent of quota, War Finance Director Ted R. Gamble warned the nation today against overconfidence in the drive.

"The tremendous surge of sales that some people expected as an immediate result of the invasion has not happened," he said in a letter to State War Finance chairman calling for "intensified sales effort."

Individuals' purchases totaled $1,481,000,000 through Tuesday, eighth day of the drive. The quota for such sales is $8,000,000,000. The overall goal is $16,000,000,000.

Brothers-In-Law Meet In England

Word has been received by Mrs. John D. Rife, Stevens street, that her husband, Pvt. John D. Rife, serving with an MP battalion, and Sgt. John M. Singley have met somewhere in England. Mrs. Rife and Mrs. Singley are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lentz, McKnightstown.

Pvt. Rife is a son of H. J. Rife, Fairfield, and Sgt. Singley, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Singley, McKnightstown. Sgt. Richard Kuhn of Cashtown also visited Private Rife recently.

Just received a shipment of Phoenix soap, good summer shade, Melvins' soap, Gettysburg store.

SGT. DEARDORFF COMPLETES 72 BATTLE FLIGHTS

Staff Sergeant Burnell K. Deardorff, Center Square, New Oxford, has flown 72 combat missions as armorer-tail gunner of a twin-engine B-26 Marauder, according to letters from the veteran of action in the Mediterranean theater and an official dispatch from a 12th AAF B-26 Marauder base which refers to the first 56 missions. Sergeant Deardorff's letter is more recent and reveals the total has reached 72.

The 12th AAF dispatch follows: "Flying with the oldest medium bomb group in the Mediterranean theater, Sergeant Deardorff has won the Air Medal and three oak leaf clusters. He has been over Cassino, the Abbey di Montecassino, southern France, Rome, Florence and on close support missions both over the Salerno and Anzio beachheads.

"I never had a chance to shoot at fighters," he says, "because my pilot was a flight leader and I usually rode in the lead ship. Fighters almost always attack from the rear."

Plenty Of Excitement

"But he has had his excitement in other forms.

"Approaching the Italian coast on a bridge mission one of his ship's engines sputtered and died. On one engine the pilot managed to maintain the ship's altitude and kept it going 20 minutes to a friendly field.

"On another bridge mission when the formation met heavy flak his ship returned home riddled with 39 separate holes. Damage was so severe that it could no longer be used in combat.

"A little piece of flak came in the tail that day," he recalls, "and took a piece of plywood out of the tail and threw it in my face. I never could find what happened to the flak piece."

A graduate of the New Oxford high school, he was employed as a sheet metal layout man for the Glenn L. Martin company, manufacturers of the Marauder, before entering the army in June, 1942. He completed the Fort Myers, Fla., gunnery school and the Lower Field, Colo., armament school.

SPECIAL PANEL ON CAR PRICES; JULY SHOE SALE

The Harrisburg district office of the OPA announced today that local ration boards have set up panels to supply the public with information about the new OPA ceiling prices on used cars which go into effect here on July 10 and at the same time disclosed that shoe stores may sell odd-lot shoes ration free and at reduced prices from July 10 through July 29.

The announcement stated that the members of the panel to give information on the ceiling prices on used cars can supply exact figures which may be charged or paid for used machines of any make or model.

For each sale on July 10 and thereafter, the buyer and seller must jointly fill out a transfer certificate and turn this in to the buyer's local board. As in the case of all wartime price ceilings, persons may charge or pay less, but not more, than the OPA ceilings.

Use Ration Book 2

The district office stated that shoe stores may sell men's and women's shoes of all sizes and youths' and boys' shoes in sizes one to six. Children's, misses' and little boys' shoes are not included because a similar ration-free sale was held on them in May.

The July sale, it was explained, is being held to help dealers dispose of accumulated broken sizes and other odds and ends which are usually sold at reduced prices. Most stores will have some shoes to sell ration-free, although they may have only a small selection. It is estimated that throughout the country around seven million pairs will be made ration-free for the July sale.

The OPA office also reminded (Please Turn to Page 5)

VETERAN TO BE HERE NEXT WEEK

A veteran of World War II will come to Gettysburg next week to help stimulate sales in the Fifth War Bond campaign, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county War Finance committee, announced.

The veteran, whose name and experience in the present conflict, have not been released by state headquarters as yet, will arrive here on Monday. He will speak at the Rotary club meeting and the Lions club Ladies Night feature at Graef- fenburg Inn.

Tuesday evening he will speak at a war bond rally in the Earl theatre, New Oxford. Anyone purchasing a bond will be admitted to the theatre free. The regular moving picture feature will also be screened.

An itinerary is now being prepared for the veteran to address bond rallies throughout the county and at various plants for the remainder of the week. Owners or operators of plants in the county who wish to have the veteran address their employees are asked to communicate with Paul D. Thomas, chairman of the Payroll Deduction committee, who will be in charge of the veteran during his week's stay here.

REGISTER 1,151 G-I BALLOTS; MEET JULY 3RD

Adams countians registered for the G-I ballot reached the 1,151 mark today with four more districts reporting this morning. Meantime the Adams county Election board completed plans for a county-wide meeting of judges of election to be held Monday, July 3, at the court house at 8 p. m., to distribute the cards collected by the OGD workers and to give the judges instructions in their work on Military Ballot Day, Friday, July 7.

Districts sending in registration cards this morning included Menallen township, 56; Berwick township, 47; Huntingdon township No. 1, 44; and Huntingdon township No. 2, 34. Twenty districts have not reported the number of service men registered in their sections. Civilian Defense officials today asked these districts which have not as yet reported to complete their work as soon as possible in order that the cards may be processed prior to July 3 when they will be turned over to the judges of election in the various districts.

Judges Meet July 7

The judges will sit July 7 at the various election houses in the county to receive registrations from persons who may have been missed by the canvassers of the Civilian Defense staff and will certify the names given them by individuals and by the Civilian Defense organization to the county election board which will in turn send ballots to soldiers, sailors and marines, or those in military auxiliaries, in time for them to vote in the November election.

The judges will fill out special forms received here by the county election board Wednesday. The (Please Turn to Page 5)

PVT. W. E. TODDES IS WOUNDED

Pvt. Walter E. Toddes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edward Toddes, Gettysburg R. 3, is confined to a hospital in Italy as the result of being wounded in the back by shrapnel during action May 29.

Word of the wounding of their son was received by Mr. and Mrs. Toddes in a letter received last week. An official announcement was received Wednesday by telegram which was signed, Ulio, the Adjutant General.

Pvt. Toddes stated in his letter that he was now sitting up and eating much better. He stated he did not know how long he would be confined to the hospital.

The young soldier attended Gettysburg high school for three years. He entered the service October 4, 1943, as an infantryman and took his basic training at Camp Croft, S. C. During March, 1944, he was sent overseas. Previous to his duty in Italy he had been stationed in North Africa.

The wounded lad has been awarded the Purple Heart which will be sent to his parents.

House-To-House Battle Is Raging For Cherbourg

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 22 (AP)—Hard-driving American infantry fought house-to-house with the Germans today for possession of Cherbourg and in swift advances on the east and west threatened to cut Nazi forces on the peninsula into three segments.

The German fortifications "west and east of Cherbourg are the strongest yet encountered by the Americans," the British radio said today in a broadcast recorded by CBS.

Supreme headquarters said it lacked any knowledge of a reported American ultimatum by field radio to the Cherbourg garrison demanding surrender at 7 a. m., Greenwich Meridian time, today (3 a. m. Eastern War time). The London Daily Sketch said last night it had recorded such a broadcast.

Three Miles From The Sea

It was assumed that if the ultimatum was made it was rejected and that Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley had ordered a final attack. Supreme headquarters said it was possible the field commander might have made the demand on his own authority.

On the American left flank, the U. S. infantrymen plunged to within three miles of the sea in the vicinity of St. Croix-Hague, a village seven miles west of Cherbourg astride the main highway to Cap De La Hague, where some German forces are reported seeking at least temporary refuge.

On the right a fast-moving column speared to a point almost as close to the northern coast by reaching the Saire river near the village of Le Theil, less than five miles east and slightly south of Cherbourg.

Advance Along Entire Front

In the center substantial gains were made along the main road from Valognes. Communique No. 33 reported "good progress" with advances of two or three miles along the entire front.

Allied experts flew into the Cherbourg peninsula to investigate the flying bomb bases captured intact by the American troops, but the supreme command said there were no indications the Germans had been using these against England. It appeared, a spokesman said, that the American drive over the peninsula left the enemy insufficient time to get the launching sites ready for operation.

Except for the swift encircling drive on Cherbourg, there was little activity on the beachhead. The communique reported only patrol activity elsewhere, although enemy artillery and mortar fire in the British-Canadian sector at Tilly was said to be unusually heavy.

WOMEN BOOST SALE OF BONDS

The Women's Division continues to report bond sales throughout the county, although in some areas complete reports have not been tabulated and will not be available for several days.

McSherrytown reported sales of $3,750 on Wednesday while at the booths in the Hotel Gettysburg and First National bank sales totaled $3,500. The total of $7,250 does not represent the total sales by the women volunteer workers. Most of the districts did not report their Thursday results.

Three more names were added to the Roll of Honor league:

The Citizens Oil Company for S. 2-c Richard S. Cedoni and S. 2-c Robert A. Cedoni.

Mrs. Charles L. Hoffman for Pvt. Charles L. Hoffman.

Three names were also added to the Victory Cradle Roll:

Joan Christian Heiges by Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Heiges.

Donald Eugene Herring, Biglerville, by Mrs. Ruth Herring.

Duron James Smallwood, Biglerville, by Mrs. Mary Smallwood.

RED CROSS GIFTS

An additional $140 has been received by the Red Cross for kits, bags from the third and fourth grades of Hamilton township school, it was announced today. Mrs. Fannie Marks is teacher of the classes.

FILE APPLICATION

Lester Luther Myers, York, and Sara Frances Hoffman, Gettysburg R. 1, have filed application for a marriage license at York.

Good Evening

The Jap fleet runs well—it's had a lot of practice.

The assault on Cherbourg captured the spotlight, but it was apparent Gen. Bradley was striking with vigor to round up the German garrisons on the two prongs of the peninsula.

Action Is Fast

With reports from the front lagging far behind developments, the supreme command conceded that advance American patrols already may have reached the sea beyond St. Croix-Hague on the west and Le Theil on the east—advances that would cut off German forces and forts on Cap La Hague on the west and on Point Barleur on the east.

In the close-up fight for Cherbourg the French-built concrete forts—Oceville and Cu Roule—about 1,500 yards from the prize harbor—were proving formidable obstacles to the attacking American troops. The fighting apparently raged all around the town, in the suburbs and possibly inside the town itself.

(The German radio, in a broadcast recorded by The Associated Press, began preparing the Nazi home front for the loss of the port, speaking of how long it could hold out against overwhelming attacks.)

The Vichy radio this morning said warships offshore were supporting the Americans, but supreme headquarters said it had no knowledge of such a bombardment.

Destroying Everything

The Germans still were rushing to destroy everything in the port and city which could be of use to the Allies.

Reports here said that Cherbourg's airfield appeared to be within the Allied grasp if not already taken. This would be the first sizeable field captured in the beachhead drive and, when repaired, would permit the use of medium bombers.

"Ours is a tremendous task, the largest financial undertaking in the history of the county and we cannot possibly achieve our quota-goal of $2,797,000 unless we have the financial support of every single individual in the county. It appears that we are beginning to get just that kind of support."

Good State Report

Philadelphia, June 22 (AP)—In the greatest 24-hour increase since the start of the Fifth War Loan drive, sales to individuals in Pennsylvania rose yesterday to bring total sales in that bracket to $89,127,803 or 20.16 per cent of the $442,000,000 quota, G. Ruhland Rehmann Jr., chairman of the State War Finance committee, announced today.

Rehmann said the state is ahead of the national average in the bond and individual sales.

Sales of series E bonds rose to $50,553,075, or 22.7 per cent of the $224,000,000 quota in that category, Rehmann said.

Sales in the Fort Pitt area, which includes 19 western Pennsylvania counties, rose to $13,889,400 or 18 per cent of its $71,168,000 quota.

Washington, June 22 (AP)—With bond sales to individuals in the Fifth War Loan at 18 per cent of quota, War Finance Director Ted R. Gamble warned the nation today against overconfidence in the drive.

"The tremendous surge of sales that some people expected as an immediate result of the invasion has not happened," he said in a letter to State War Finance chairman calling for "intensified sales effort."

Individuals' purchases totaled $1,081,000,000 through Tuesday, eighth day of the drive. The quota for such sales is $6,000,000,000. The overall goal is $16,000,000,000.

SGT. DEARDORFF COMPLETES 72 BATTLE FLIGHTS

Staff Sergeant Burnell K. Deardorff, Center Square, New Oxford, has flown 72 combat missions as armorer-tail gunner of a twin-engine B-26 Marauder, according to letters from the veteran of action in the Mediterranean theater and an official dispatch from a 12th AAF B-26 Marauder base which referred to the first 56 missions. Sergeant Deardorff's letter is more recent and reveals the total has reached 72.

The 12th AAF dispatch follows:

"Flying with the oldest medium bomb group in the Mediterranean theater, Sergeant Deardorff has won the Air Medal and three oak leaf clusters. He has been over Cassino, the Abbey di Montecassino, southern France, Rome, Florence and on close support missions both over the Salerno and Anzio beachheads.

"I never had a chance to shoot at fighters," he says, "because my pilot was a flight leader and I usually rode in the lead ship. Fighters almost always attack from the rear."

Plenty Of Excitement

"But he has had his excitement in other forms.

"Approaching the Italian coast on a bridge mission one of his ship's engines sputtered and died. On one engine the pilot managed to maintain the ship's altitude and kept it going 20 minutes to a friendly field.

"On another bridge mission when the formation met heavy flak his ship returned home riddled with 30 separate holes. Damage was so severe that it could no longer be used in combat.

"A little piece of flak came in the tail that day," he recalls, "and took a piece of plywood out of the tail and threw it in my face. I never could find what happened to the flak piece."

A graduate of the New Oxford high school, he was employed as a sheet metal layout man for the Glenn L. Martin company, manufacturers of the Marauder, before entering the army in June, 1942. He completed the Fort Myers, Fla., gunnery school and the Lowery Field, Colo., armament school.

REGISTER 1,151 G-I BALLOTS; MEET JULY 3RD

Adams countians registered for the GI ballot reached the 1,151 mark today with four more districts reporting this morning. Meantime the Adams county Election board completed plans for a county-wide meeting of judges of election to be held Monday, July 3, at the court house at 8 p. m., to distribute the cards collected by the OGD workers and to give the judges instructions in their work on Military Ballot Day, Friday, July 7.

Districts sending in registration cards this morning included Menallen township, 56; Berwick township, 47; Huntingdon township No. 1, 44; and Huntingdon township No. 2, 34. Twenty districts have not reported the number of service men registered in their sections. Civilian Defense officials today asked these districts which have not as yet reported to complete their work as soon as possible in order that the cards may be processed prior to July 3 when they will be turned over to the judges of election in the various districts.

Judges Meet July 7

The judges will sit July 7 at the various election houses in the county to receive registrations from persons who may have been missed by the canvassers of the Civilian Defense staff and will certify the names given them by individuals and by the Civilian Defense organization to the county election board which will in turn send ballots to soldiers, sailors and marines, or those in military auxiliaries, in time for them to vote in the November election.

The judges will fill out special forms received here by the county election board Wednesday. The (Please Turn to Page 5)

SPECIAL PANEL ON CAR PRICES; JULY SHOE SALE

The Harrisburg district office of the OPA announced today that local ration boards have set up panels to supply the public with information about the new OPA ceiling prices on used cars which go into effect here on July 10 and at the same time disclosed that shoe stores may sell odd-lot shoes ration free and at reduced prices from July 10 through July 29.

The announcement stated that the members of the panel to give information on the ceiling prices on used cars can supply exact figures which may be charged or paid for used machines of any make or model.

For each sale on July 10 and thereafter, the buyer and seller must jointly fill out a transfer certificate and turn this in to the buyer's local board. As in the case of all wartime price ceilings, persons may charge or pay less, but not more, than the OPA ceilings.

Use Ration Book 3

The district office stated that shoe stores may sell men's and women's shoes of all sizes and youths' and boys' shoes in sizes one to six. Children's, misses' and little boys' shoes are not included because a similar ration-free sale was held on them in May.

The July sale, it was explained, is being held to help dealers dispose of accumulated broken sizes and other odds and ends which are usually sold at reduced prices. Most stores will have some shoes to sell ration-free, although they may have only a small selection. It is estimated that throughout the country around seven million pairs will be made ration-free for the July sale.

PVT. W. E. TODDES IS WOUNDED

Pvt. Walter E. Toddes, Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edward Toddes, Gettysburg, R. 3, is confined to a hospital in Italy as the result of being wounded in the back by shrapnel during action May 29.

Word of the wounding of their son was received by Mr. and Mrs. Toddes in a letter received last week. An official announcement was received Wednesday by telegram which was signed, Ulio, the Adjutant General.

Pvt. Toddes stated in his letter that he was now sitting up and eating much better. He stated he did not know how long he would be confined to the hospital.

The young soldier attended Gettysburg high school for three years. He entered the service October 4, 1943, as an infantryman and took his basic training at Camp Croft, S. C. During March, 1944, he was sent overseas. Previous to his duty in Italy he had been stationed in North Africa.

The wounded lad has been awarded the Purple Heart which will be sent to his parents.

VETERAN TO BE HERE NEXT WEEK

A veteran of World War II will come to Gettysburg next week to help stimulate sales in the Fifth War Bond campaign, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county War Finance committee, announced.

The veteran, whose name and experience in the present conflict, have not been released by state headquarters as yet, will arrive here on Monday. He will speak at the Rotary club meeting and the Lions club Ladies Night feature at Graef-fenberg Inn.

Tuesday evening he will speak at a war bond rally in the Earl theatre, New Oxford. Anyone purchasing a bond will be admitted to the theatre free. The regular moving picture feature will also be screened.

An itinerary is now being prepared for the veteran to address bond rallies throughout the county and at various plants for the remainder of the week. Owners or operators of plants in the county who wish to have the veteran address their employees are asked to communicate with Paul D. Thomas, chairman of the Payroll Deduction committee, who will be in charge of the veteran during his week's stay here.

House-To-House Battle Is Raging For Cherbourg

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 22 (AP)—Hard-driving American infantry fought house-to-house with the Germans today for possession of Cherbourg and in swift advances on the east and west threatened to cut Nazi forces on the peninsula into three segments.

The German fortifications "west and east of Cherbourg are the strongest yet encountered by the Americans," the British radio said today in a broadcast recorded by CBS.

Supreme headquarters said it lacked any knowledge of a reported American ultimatum by field radio to the Cherbourg garrison demanding surrender at 7 a. m., Greenwich Meridian time, today (3 a. m. Eastern War time). The London Daily Sketch said last night it had recorded such a broadcast.

Three Miles From The Sea

It was assumed that if the ultimatum was made it was rejected and that Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley had ordered a final attack. Supreme headquarters said it was possible the field commander might have made the demand on his own authority.

On the American left flank, the U. S. infantrymen plunged to within three miles of the sea in the vicinity of St. Croix-Hague, a village seven miles west of Cherbourg astride the main highway to Cap De La Hague, where some German forces are reported seeking at least temporary refuge.

On the right a fast-moving column speared to a point almost as close to the northern coast by reaching the Saire river near the village of Le Theil, less than five miles east and slightly south of Cherbourg.

Advance Along Entire Front

In the center substantial gains were made along the main road from Valognes. Communique No. 33 reported "good progress" with advances of two or three miles along the entire front.

Allied experts flew into the Cherbourg peninsula to investigate the flying bomb bases captured intact by the American troops, but the supreme command said there were no indications the Germans had been using these against England. It appeared, a spokesman said, that the American drive over the peninsula left the enemy insufficient time to get the launching sites ready for operation.

Except for the swift encircling drive on Cherbourg, there was little activity on the beachhead. The communique reported only patrol activity elsewhere, although enemy artillery and mortar fire in the British-Canadian sector at Tilly was said to be unusually heavy.

WOMEN BOOST SALE OF BONDS

The Women's Division continues to report bond sales throughout the county, although in some areas complete reports have not been tabulated and will not be available for several days.

McSherrystown reported sales of $3,750 on Wednesday while at the booths in the Hotel Gettysburg and First National bank sales totaled $3,500. The total of $7,250 does not represent the total sales by the women volunteer workers. Most of the districts did not report their Thursday results.

Three more names were added to the Roll of Honor league:

The Citizens Oil Company for S 2-c Richard S. Codori and S 2-c Robert A. Codori.

Mrs. Charles L. Hoffman for Pvt. Charles L. Hoffman.

Three names were also added to the Victory Cradle Roll:

Joan Christian Heiges by Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Heiges.

Donald Eugene Herring, Bigler-ville, by Mrs. Ruth Herring.

Duron James Smalwood, Bigler-ville, by Mrs. Mary Smalwood.

Destroying Everything

The Germans still were rushing to destroy everything in the port and city which could be of use to the Allies.

Reports here said that Cherbourg's airfield appeared to be within the Allied grasp if not already taken. This would be the first sizeable field captured in the beachhead drive and, when repaired, would permit the use of medium bombers.

JAPS HAVE NO HOPE OF PACIFIC NAVAL VICTORY

By J. M. ROBERTS
(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)
It's grand news from the Pacific today, where we have exacted another payment for Pearl Harbor, but again the Japanese appear to have evaded all effort to force them into a real struggle.

Our planes have inflicted losses which amount to a severe punishment, but both the communiqué and a report from Rombert James, AP correspondent with the Fifth Fleet, indicate that yesterday's hopes for a "real center" battle have gone glimmering.

No Intention To Fight

The Navy apparently felt until yesterday that there was chance of further action, and enthusiasm was high. This was sufficient indication of our overwhelming strength, and we might have guessed then that the enemy would get away with all he could.

Earlier reports that the Japanese force consisted of a large portion of the grand fleet proved unfounded, although its strength, prior to the arrival of our planes, was nothing to be sneezed at. But there is nothing to indicate now that it ever had any intention of standing up to Admiral Spruance's force.

The most likely explanation of its presence, in the light of developments, is that the Japanese hoped to hurt Spruance with one big air raid—Sunday's—and then get back out of range.

Jap Plane Losses 6 To 1

Although we have learned to pay little attention to Japanese claims, it is good to have reassurance regarding damage to our own fleet. Admiral Nimitz already had told us that no combat ships were lost Sunday. Then on Monday, while slipping up 14 Japanese ships, we lost none and suffered no disabling damage. So much for Radio Tokyo's recent burbles.

Without counting losses aboard Japanese carriers—one sunk, two apparently very seriously damaged and a fourth hit—the Japanese plane losses are extraordinarily high compared with our own—6 to 1.

Midway, Guadalcanal and Saipan-Philippines, it all adds up. Unless he happens to muster, by accident, an overwhelming local force against one of our task units, the enemy has no hope of a victory in the Pacific. And, until we corner him in a last ditch fight at home, we seem to have small chance of getting him into a showdown, even when we invade the Philippines.

SILVER CIRCLE HOLDS MEETING

Special music and a dramatization of the story of the writing of the hymn, "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go," were presented at the meeting of the Silver Circle of St. James Lutheran church, Wednesday afternoon in the chapel. Mrs. Mervin U. Bream was the program chairman.

The opening piano solo, "To Spring" by Greg was given by Lois Stoner. After the singing of the hymn "Living for Jesus," there was responsive reading and a prayer in unison. Then the group sang "God of Our Fathers." Luther Smith, Jr., played "Mars" by Goldmann as a trumpet solo. Howard McCarty of the seminary sang "O Dry Thy Tears" by Del Reigo and "The Big Brown Bear" by Mario Zucca, accompanied by John Harkins. Sandra Strausbaugh recited and Joan Deardoff sang "Away O'er the Ocean" and "Jesus Calls the Children Dear."

The story of the writing of George Matheson's hymn, "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go" was dramatized by Harry Berkebile and Wilfred Remmington accompanied by John Harkins, all of the seminary. The program closed with the Lord's prayer. Refreshments were served by Miss Bream, Miss Mae Miller, Miss Minnie Spangler and Mrs. Annie Musser.

A dispatch last night from Associated Press war Correspondent Dwight Brown quoted French officials, "travelling through the lines as they fight the Germans in Cotentin and prepared for a street-by-street campaign by knocking holes in the armor of buildings and setting up machine guns and anti-tank guns to cover the approaches."

Truck Burns After Crash On Highway

Damage to the extent of $1,200 was done Wednesday morning about 10:30 o'clock when a truck operated by Chester J. Perry, 29, Fayetteville R. 1, struck a tree pole and several trees while descending the east side of Newman's hill west of here along the Lincoln highway.

The truck became unmanageable when the brakes failed and the driver was unable to negotiate a curve. After striking the trees the truck caught fire and burned.

Mr. Perry suffered a possible fracture of the right shoulder.

CIO DEMANDS $10 MILLIONS USELESS WORK ASSERTS FIRM

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The Wheeling Steel Corporation estimates that the guaranteed wage demand of the CIO United Steelworkers would cost it about $10,000,000 a year "for hours not needed or worked."

The company said it arrived at that figure by using conditions as they existed in 1938 and applying to them the wage rates demanded by the union and the guarantee as company officials interpret it.

"The earnings statement of this corporation and its subsidiary companies for the year 1938," R. Conrad Cooper, assistant vice president, told the War Labor Board panel, "showed a profit before federal income taxes of $581,721. The significance of that demand is obvious."

Cooper submitted to the panel yesterday a statement supplementing the basic case presented by the principal iron and steel producing companies in the dispute growing out of the steelworkers' demands for a 17-cent hourly wage increase, guaranteed wage and other concessions.

Cooper contended the union erred in its calculations of the refund provisions of the Internal Revenue code as applied to Wheeling steel.

State May Receive Flood Control Aid

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Approximately $11,000,000 would be allocated to Pennsylvania under a billion dollar flood control program approved by the Senate commerce committee yesterday.

Pennsylvania projects, none of which would be started until after the war, include:

- Susquehanna river basin, $2,227,000.
- local protection works at Harrisburg, $1,392,000.
- flood defenses at Tyrone, Little Juniata river; $1,755,000.
- South Plymouth and Genesee river reservoirs, Chenango river tributaries, and $2,000,000 Raystown reservoir.

The commerce committee added a $2,000,000 reservoir project in Turtle creek, Allegheny County, Pa.

Says Advertising Brought Results

A letter published recently in "Sinclair Newsnotes," a monthly publication by the merchandising department of the eastern district of the Sinclair Refining company, testifies to the value, in business returns, of an advertising program conducted in the columns of The Gettysburg Times by John C. Hartman, local representative of the Sinclair company.

Mr. Hartman writes in part as follows: "We here at Gettysburg advertise weekly but particularly take advantage of Farm Future advertising. This medium creates in the farmer a direct desire to order his oils, greases and insecticides for the on-coming season at a lower price and does not high-pressure or overdo the selling job."

"This year so far I contributed directly through advertising future orders covering more than 400 gallons of motor oil, 175 pounds of grease and 50 gallons of insecticides. Furthermore it is evident that I have derived more benefit than I'll ever know."

JAPS HAVE NO HOPE OF PACIFIC NAVAL VICTORY

By J. M. ROBERTS
(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)
It's grand news from the Pacific today, where we have exacted another payment for Pearl Harbor, but again the Japanese appear to have evaded all effort to force them into a real slugfest.

Our planes have inflicted losses which amount to a severe amputation, but both the communicate and a report from Rembert James, AP correspondent with the Fifth Fleet, indicate that yesterday's hopes for a real contact battle have gone glimmering.

No Intention To Fight
The Navy apparently felt until yesterday that there was chance of further action, and enthusiasm was high. This was sufficient indication of our overwhelming strength, and we might have guessed then that the enemy would get away with all he could.

Earlier reports that the Japanese force consisted of a large portion of the grand fleet proved unfounded, although its strength, prior to the arrival of our planes, was nothing to be sneezed at. But there is nothing to indicate now that it ever had any intention of standing up to Admiral Spruance's force.

The most likely explanation of its presence, in the light of developments, is that the Japanese hoped to hurt Spruance with one big air raid—Sunday—and then get back out of range.

Jap Plane Losses 6 To 1
Although we have learned to pay little attention to Japanese claims, it is good to have reassurance regarding damage to our own fleet. Admiral Nimitz already had told us that no combat ships were lost Sunday. Then on Monday, while ripping up 14 Japanese ships, we lost none and suffered no disabling damage. So much for Radio Tokyo's recent burles.

Without counting losses aboard Japanese carriers—one sunk, two apparently very seriously damaged and a fourth hit—the Japanese plane losses are extraordinarily high compared with our own—6 to 1.
Midway, Guadalcanal and Saipan-Philippines, it all adds up. Unless he happens to muster, by accident, an overwhelming local force against one of our task units, the enemy has no hope of a victory in the Pacific. And, until we corner him in a last ditch fight at home, we seem to have small chance of getting him into a showdown, even when we invade the Philippines.

SILVER CIRCLE HOLDS MEETING

Special music and a dramatization of the story of the writing of the hymn, "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go," were presented at the meeting of the Silver Circle of St. James Lutheran church, Wednesday afternoon in the chapel. Mrs. Mervin U. Bream was the program chairman.

The opening piano solo, "To Spring" by Grieg was given by Lois Stoner. After the singing of the hymn "Living for Jesus," there was responsive reading and a prayer in unison. Then the group sang "God of Our Fathers," Luther Smith, Jr., played "Mars" by Goldman as a trumpet solo. Howard McCahey of the seminary sang "O Dry Thy Tears" by Del Reigo and "The Big Brown Bear" by Mano Zuca, accompanied by John Harkins. Sandra Strausbaugh recited and Joan Deardorff sang "Away O'er the Ocean" and "Jesus Calls the Children Dear."

The story of the writing of George Matheson's hymn, "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go" was dramatized by Harry Berkebile and Wilfred Hemming accompanied by John Harkins, all of the seminary. The program closed with the Lord's prayer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bream, Miss Mae Miller, Miss Minnie Spangler and Mrs. Annie Musser.

air operations and also delayed unloading of war materials. A strong wind from the northeast whipped up a heavy surf on the beaches.
A dispatch last night from Associated Press War Correspondent Don-Whitehead quoted French civilians straggling through the lines as saying the Germans in Cherbourg had prepared for a street-by-street defense by knocking holes in the corner of buildings and setting up machine guns and anti-tank guns to cover the approaches.

Truck Burns After Crash On Highway

Damage to the extent of about $1,200 was done Wednesday morning about 10:30 o'clock when a truck operated by Chester J. Perry, 29, Fayetteville R. 1, struck a telephone pole and several trees while descending the east slope of New-man's hill west of here along the Lincoln highway.

The truck became unmanageable when the brakes failed and the driver was unable to negotiate a curve. After striking the trees the truck caught fire and burned.

Mr. Perry suffered a possible fracture of the right shoulder.

CIO DEMANDS $10 MILLIONS USELESS WORK ASSERTS FIRM

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The Wheeling Steel Corporation estimates that the guaranteed wage demand of the CIO United Steelworkers would cost it about $10,000,000 a year "for hours not needed or worked."

The company said it arrived at that figure by using conditions as they existed in 1938 and applying to them the wage rates demanded by the union and the guarantee as company officials interpret it.

"The earnings statement of this corporation and its subsidiary companies for the year 1938," R. Conrad Cooper, assistant vice president, told the War Labor Board panel, "showed a profit before federal income taxes of $581,721. The significance of that demand is obvious."

Cooper submitted to the panel yesterday a statement supplementing the basic case presented by the principal iron and steel producing companies in the dispute growing out of the steelworkers' demands for a 17-cent hourly wage increase, guaranteed wage and other concessions.

Cooper contended the union erred in its calculations of the refund provisions of the internal revenue code as applied to Wheeling steel.

State May Receive Flood Control Aid

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Approximately $11,000,000 would be allocated to Pennsylvania under a billion dollar flood control program approved by the Senate commerce committee yesterday.

Pennsylvania projects, none of which would be started until after the war, include:

Susquehanna river basin, $2,227,000, local protection works at Harrisburg, $1,392,000, flood defenses at Tyrone, Little Juniata river; $4,755,000, South Plymouth and Geneganslet reservoirs, Chenango river tributaries and $2,000,000 Raystown reservoir.

The commerce committee added a $2,000,000 reservoir project in Turtle creek, Allegheny County, Pa.

ATHLETICS IN 5TH POSITION; YANKEES SIXTH

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs are headed for a major league victory record unless they do better in the next 11 games against St. Louis Cardinals than they did in the first 11. The Cubs have lost exactly 11 times. Their worst showing against any one team since 1902.

Manager Charlie Grimm used six pitchers and six pinch hitters against the Cards yesterday but lost 6-4 and 7-2. George Mauer won his ninth against one defeat in the opener although he needed late help from Mort Cooper. Harry Brecheen took his third straight from the Cubs in the finale. The double win increased the Cards' lead over Pittsburgh to eight and one half games, their biggest margin of the season.

Giants Drub Bums

The New York Giants drubbed Brooklyn 11-2 for their 18th triumph in the last 24 games to take over third place in the national league. Bill Voiselle gained his ninth triumph, holding the Brooks to six hits. Mel Ott scored his 1,741st run to break his tie with Hans Wagner and set a new National league record.

After eight scoreless innings, Cincinnati scored in the ninth, but the Pittsburgh Pirates counted two in their half to take the game 2-1. Babe Dahlgren's single scored Tommy O'Brien with the winning run. Ray Starr held his former mates to seven hits for his second victory over Cincinnati since he was waived to the Pirates three weeks ago.

The Philadelphia Athletics made it three in a row over Boston, 5-2, as Dick Siebert drove in three runs with a double and single, and Jesse Flores outpitched Clem Hausman.

Yanks, Senators Divide

New York and Washington divided a double header, the champions taking the first 4-3, after trailing 1-3 until the seventh. The Nats took the second 6-4, with a five-run first inning at the expense of Southpaw Joe Page. Mito Candini held his former teammates to six hits to win his third game for the Senators.

The St. Louis Browns increased their American league lead to two and one half games over Boston's Red Sox by trouncing the Chicago White Sox 11-2, behind Nelson Potter's seven-hit pitching. Gene Moore and Vernon Stephens led the attack on two Chicago hurlers with three hits each, including a homer apiece.

Rookie Paul O'Dea batted "four for four" as Cleveland defeated Detroit in a slugfest, 9-7. Rudy York of the Tigers and Mickey Rocco of the Indians blasted home runs. The Boston-Philadelphia double rain.

ZIVIC CREDITS TOP CONDITION TO ARMY LIFE

Pittsburgh, June 22 (AP)—That hedging kiwi of the Army air force, Pvt. Ferdinand Henry Zivic, alias Fritz Zivic, erstwhile chatterbox of the ring, returns to the boxing chores he once thought he definitely had finished Monday night "in the best shape I've been in for over a year."

The former welterweight champion, home on furlough after completing his basic training at Keesler Field, Mississippi, meets Tommy Bell, Cleveland slugger, in the ten round main event of a card at Forbes Field.

"This Army life really keeps you in shape. Lots better than being in master of ceremonies in a night club," he quipped after winding up a hard workout that included eight fast rounds with two sparring mates.

"My legs are better than they've been in two years. I'm down to 152, my best weight. Wish this furlough was longer. I'd like to get in another fight."

In Bell, however, Zivic meets one of the Midwest's most promising middleweights. The young Cleveland negro has won 37 straight fights, 26 of them by knockouts.

"I did a little boxing down at Keesler Field," he chuckled, "but I didn't need it to keep in shape. Those sergeants were keeping me in shape all the time."

"You can say that again," chimed in S-Sgt. Thomas H. Grant of

Chat Covington Wins Debut Game

Ken Gregory, Elmira second baseman, and Pitcher Chat Covington, recently of the Philadelphia Phillies, shared the Eastern league spotlight today.

Gregory's single in the 12th inning gave Elmira a 3-2 win over Albany last night. Covington marked his first appearance with Utica by winning 6-2 over Scranton which also was beaten in the first game of a twin bill, 6-4.

Hartford defeated Williamsport, 4-1, and Wilkes-Barre conquered Binghamton, 6-1.

Covington, voted the minor league's No. 1 pitcher in 1943 for his work with Scranton, hurled six hit ball, Jack Kimball, making his first start of the season for the Utes, was victor in the first game.

Warren Mueller chalked up his 10th victory against one defeat by holding Williamsport to five hits against Hartford.

Pershing Towery bested John Moore as Wilkes-Barre took its second straight win. Moore struck out 10 batters, but each pitcher was reached for 10 hits.

Wheeling, West Virginia, who put Zivic through his basic training and who was here for the workout. Sgt. Grant also is home on furlough.

"Yes, that getting up with the birds and going to bed when they do is something," Zivic said. "And I don't mean yard birds, either."

Better Fighters Not Grid Players Plead Ex-Mentor

San Diego, Calif., June 22 (AP)—Lt. Col. Richard E. Hanley, former football coach at Northwestern university, urged the nation's college and high school grid coaches today to "quit building better football men and start building better fighting men."

In charge of combat conditioning for Marine aviation on the Pacific coast, Hanley recently returned to duty here after working out a program in Washington, D. C., for physical training and combat conditioning for the entire Marine Corps.

"Instead of taking athletes and making them into football players, coaches should take young men who are not physically fit and build them into fighting men," said Hanley. "Many a potential 4-F could be turned into a 1-A with proper conditioning, and the coaches are qualified to provide that condition."

Want New Pep, Vim, Energy?

Thousands of men and women, with regular, normal blood circulation, naturally derive their energy from the blood. The blood is the life-giving force of the body. It carries oxygen and nutrients to every cell. If the blood is weak, the body is weak. If the blood is strong, the body is strong. This is the reason why so many people feel tired, run down, and lack energy. The solution is to strengthen the blood. This can be done by taking a course of treatment with the famous "Blood Tonic" which is a natural blood purifier and strengthener. It will give you the pep, vim, and energy you need to live a full and active life.

Foolproof Starter's Gun Now Being Used

Philadelphia, June 22 (AP)—A starter's gun that can't be "jumped"—was used in the 100-meter senior dash in the National AAU championships last Sunday.

"It's foolproof," said the veteran Olympic and University of Pennsylvania track coach, demonstrating the electrical device he first saw at Copenhagen in 1936.

The gun is attached by underground wires to metal plates on the starting line. Unless each runner's fingertips are touching the plates, the gun won't go off no matter how hard the starter squeezes the trigger. A battery provides all the necessary "juice."

Robertson had George Lang, an engineer, rig up an "electric gun" after he returned from Copenhagen. It's been used twice at Penn. A. C. indoor meet and worked fine. Robertson says, but he hasn't heard of its being used anywhere else in the United States.

A somewhat similar device at the Berlin Olympics, "Robbie" recalled, started a watch at the finish line at the exact second the starting gun was fired.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
McPherson, Wins School Honors: Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Carlisle street, won the highest student honor of the Gilman country school, Roland Park, Baltimore, from which he graduates this year, at Founders' Day exercises, when the William A. Fisher Medallion was awarded to him.

Miller-Roth Wedding Is Held
St. James Lutheran Church: Miss Lorena Marian Roth, daughter of Professor and Mrs. H. Milton Roth, Broadway, and Charles Kitzmiller, son of Postmaster and Mrs. R. O. Miller, of Baltimore street, were united in marriage at half past six o'clock Friday evening at St. James Lutheran church by the Rev. Earl J. Bowman.

The maid of honor was Miss Madelyn Roth and the matron of honor was Mrs. William G. Weaver. Bridesmaids were Miss Edith Clare, Miss Evelyn Toor, Miss Martha Major and Miss Gladys Hazel. Little Dorothy Lee Grimm was the flower girl.

Henry M. Scharf acted as best man. The ushers were William G. Weaver, J. Harold Mumper, Harold S. Roth and Walter A. Mercall.

The couple will reside in York.

ALLIES NEAR ANCONA, HUGE ITALIAN PORT

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Rome, June 22 (AP)—Allied and Italian troops are within 32 miles of Ancona, prize Italian port on the Adriatic coast, while Eighth Army troops are approaching Cambrano, approximately 35 miles east and a little north of Perugia, Allied Headquarters announced today.

American forces to the west have pushed on 15 airline miles north-west of Grosseto. In all land operations, although weather has improved, misty conditions are preventing cross-country movements on a large scale, a communiqué said.

The advance toward Ancona, ranking next to Venice in port facilities in that coastal sector, was made by troops which have reached Fermo, only 65 airline miles below Rimini, the eastern anchor of the so-called Pisa-Florence-Rimini line, where the fleeing Germans may offer stiff resistance against the Allied drive.

Strong Resistance
Eighth Army troops have also approached Nocera Umbra, 14 miles west of Cambrano. Limited gains were made north of the newly-taken ancient fortress city of Perugia, and in the Lake Trasimeno area west of Perugia, despite strong resistance.

A field dispatch from Correspondent Sid Feder said casualties inflicted upon the Germans during the past 41 days of the Allied offensive in Italy were estimated unofficially at between 30,000 and 100,000 killed, wounded and captured. More than 27,000 Nazis have been taken prisoner.

The Mediterranean air force stepped up its activity, making 1,100 individual plane flights in attacking shipping in Livorno harbor, battle area targets and a railway at Ventimiglia on the Italian Riviera. There were no losses.

The communiqué disclosed that in a "spirited naval engagement" in connection with the ousting of the Germans from Elba, light coastal forces torpedoed three loaded enemy lighters attempting to evacuate troops, and possibly sank a fourth. In another engagement a single enemy lighter was sunk.

(The Berlin radio said German troops were evacuated from the island of Pianosa, south of Elba, and the island of Palmaria, between the mainland and Elba, at the same time the Allies seized Elba.)

REDS LAUNCH 2 NEW DRIVES AGAINST FINNS

London, June 22 (AP)—The Red Army hurled masses of men and equipment into two new drives on a broad front north of Lake Ladoga today in an effort to make a quick end of the war with Finland, already reported in the throes of a government upheaval which may be the prelude to a bid for peace.

Launching of the drives was announced last night in a Moscow communiqué, which also disclosed that Soviet forces advancing from captured Viipuri on the Karelian isthmus south of Lake Ladoga were within 20 miles of the border fixed at the end of the 1939-40 Finnish-Russian war.

Invasion Birthday
The new Russian offensives were launched on the third anniversary of the German invasion of the Soviet Union, and apparently were aimed at clearing the Murmansk-Leningrad railway of Finnish forces.

One of the thrusts was launched along the Svir river, between Lakes Ladoga and Onega (Oнежское), approximately 150 to 200 miles northeast of Viipuri. The other was started about 100 miles further north, above Lake Onega, and cracked Finnish lines east of Medvezhegorsk, at the northwestern tip of the lake.

The broadcast Russian communiqué said that in the first day of the attack along the Svir more than 200 populated places had been occupied, including Voznesene, a district center of the Leningrad region.

Soviet troops hitting west from the top of Lake Onega, have closed in on Medvezhegorsk, and are fighting in its outskirts, another Moscow broadcast declared.

Plunging beyond the burning ruins of Viipuri, other Red Army units were within 120 miles of the Finnish capital of Helsinki after taking more than 50 additional places, the Soviet communiqué added.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be fluid kidney. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with a burning or stinging sensation along the way are warning signs that your kidneys are working wrong.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Today's Talk
THE MOODS OF THE MIND
We are all human beings of moods. An endless variety of happenings control or influence them. The weather, environment, human contacts, reading, travel, conversation, each and all stimulate or help to form the mood that takes control of us.

The happiest mood to be in, however, is the happy mood. Then we become invincible and people like to have us around. While we are in a reflective mood we like to be alone—to think things out, to put ourselves in arrangement, and prepare to make ourselves receptive to our friends, or to be placed in readiness for important tasks ahead.

Perhaps the worst of all moods is the worry mood—when we become destructive to ourselves and an anathema to all about us! None of us wants to be around one in such a mood. There is but one remedy for one in such a mood—that is to jump out of it as quickly as possible, for it feeds upon itself and gets faster every minute!

The quiet mood is one of the most delightful of all. It allows nature to rebuild all that has been torn down and to make repairs where their duties call them, carry this mood with them as the rarest of medicine—curing when all else fails.

These moods of ours can be controlled and controlled. It's only a masterful person who can get his moods together and select where he wants them put. He fits them to the purpose. He becomes the gay shuffler—one of those joys forever! I am not always in the mood to write, but I write just the same. You have to lead a moon around occasionally, and so it is both a matter of understanding and of will to do. We can make these moods of ours serve us. That's what they are for.

These moods of ours are quite personal, however. Outsiders should never be too inquisitive about them. They are like the clothes that we wear to fit our taste. They belong to the mind, like clothes to the body.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject "The Face You Bear."

Pastor Tells of Marriage June 12
Back from a wedding trip of a week's duration, the Rev. Ralph W. Baker, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield, has made known the details of his marriage to Miss Garretts Prye, of New Alexandria, at Springdale, on June 12.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Baker, Sr., Maytown, assisted by the Rev. Charles W. Baker, Jr., Springdale.

The Rev. and Mrs. Baker have gone to housekeeping in the new parsonage of Zion Lutheran church.

To Build Home at Granite Hill on Lincoln highway: P. W. Stallsmith, Center Square, has begun the erection of a home at Granite Hill, near Granite Station, on the Lincoln highway. The house will be constructed of granite quarried near the building.

County Couple Married Here
Two young people of Adams county on Tuesday evening were joined in marriage at St. James Lutheran church. The bride is Miss Alice K. Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Wolfe, of Gettysburg, who was wedded to John D. Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Kline, of near Gettysburg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Earl J. Bowman, the Lutheran ring ritual being used.

The bride's attendants were Miss Mary Wolfe, Miss Mary Kline, Miss Violet Mitchell, Miss Isabelle Mitchell and Miss Ruth Arment. Little Miss Virginia Mitchell acted as flower girl.

Bernard Wolfe acted as best man. Ushers were George J. Hill, Howard Robinson, Edward Stine and James Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Kline will reside in York.

Fairfield Girl Weds Chambersburg Man
A wedding solemnized at the home of Mrs. Charles N. Bakker, Blue Rock, June 2, in which Miss Dorothy McLaughlin, formerly of Fairfield, became the bride of J. Sharon Knepper, Chambersburg, was made public on Tuesday.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George N. Perry, Fayetteville.

The couple will reside in Chambersburg, where Mr. Knepper is employed as salesman for the Chambersburg Electric Service company.

Return from Wedding Trip
Mr. and Mrs. Luther S. Staub, married recently at Littlestown, returned Sunday from a wedding trip of two weeks. Mr. Staub is employed as druggist at the News Stand Drug Store, Center Square.

Herriot Warns Against Germans
Paris, June 16—Premier Herriot, replying to a Massin reporter Sunday relative to the selection of his cabinet, lays stress on the choice of General Nollet, head of the Allied Military Control Commission in Germany as Minister of War.

"Germany is now engaged in carrying out tactics similar to those after the peace of Tilsit in 1807, raising a large army camouflaged by gymnastic associations."

"Our cabinet is animated by a kindly spirit toward Germany and we are ready to assist to the best of our ability the young German democracy, but we will display merciless severity to the German Nationalists. We have to uphold France's rights as well as those of the democracies of the world."

Government Asks $198,400 In Fines

New York, June 22 (AP)—A government request that fines aggregating $198,400 against 27 Pennsylvania automobile companies and 56 officers or employees on price fixing charges was in the hands of Federal Judge John C. Knox today.

Judge Knox was expected to grant government request for a temporary reserved decision. The government has pleaded no contest to charges of conspiracy to fix automobile prices in violation of the Sherman antitrust act.

The government is seeking fines of $1,000 to $5,000 for each case.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO
McPherson Wins School Honors: Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Carlisle street, won the highest student honor of the Gilman country school, Roland Park, Baltimore, from which he graduates this year, at Founders' Day exercises, when the William A. Fisher Medallion was awarded to him.

Miller-Roth Wedding Is Held In St. James Lutheran Church: Miss Lorene Marian Roth, daughter of Professor and Mrs. H. Milton Roth, Broadway, and Charles Kitzmiller Miller, son of Postmaster and Mrs. R. C. Miller, of Baltimore street, were united in marriage at half after six o'clock Friday evening at St. James Lutheran church by the Rev. Earl J. Bowman.

The maid of honor was Miss Madylin Roth and the matron of honor was Mrs. William G. Weaver. Bridesmaids were Miss Edith Clare, Miss Evelyn Toot, Miss Martha Major and Miss Gladys Hazel. Little Dorothy Lee Grimm was the flower girl.

Henry M. Scharf acted as best man. The ushers were William G. Weaver, J. Harold Mumper, Harold S. Roth and Walter A. Metcalf. The couple will reside in York.

Pastor Tells of Marriage June 12: Back from a wedding trip of a week's duration, the Rev. Ralph W. Baker, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield, has made known the details of his marriage to Miss Garrette Frye, of New Alexandria, at Springdale, on June 12.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Baker, Sr., Maytown, assisted by the Rev. Charles W. Baker, Jr., Springdale. The Rev. and Mrs. Baker have gone to housekeeping in the new parsonage of Zion Lutheran church.

To Build Home at Granite Hill on Lincoln highway: P. W. Stallsmith, Center Square, has begun the erection of a home at Granite Hill, near Granite Station, on the Lincoln highway. The house will be constructed of granite quarried near the building.

County Couple Married Here: Two young people of Adams county on Tuesday evening were joined in marriage at St. James Lutheran church. The bride is Miss Alice K. Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Wolfe, of Gettysburg, who was wedded to John D. Kime, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Kime, of near Gettysburg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Earl J. Bowman, the Lutheran ring ritual being used.

The bride's attendants were Miss Mary Wolfe, Miss Mary Kime, Miss Violet Mitchell, Miss Isabelle Mitchell and Miss Ruth Arment. Little Miss Virginia Mitchell acted as flower girl.

Bernard Wolfe acted as best man. Ushers were George J. Hill, Howard Robinson, Edward Stine and James Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Kime will reside in York.

Fairfield Girl Weds Chambersburg Man: A wedding solemnized at the home of Mrs. Charles N. Bakner, Blue Rock, June 2, in which Miss Dorothy McLaughlin, formerly of Fairfield, became the bride of J. Sharon Knepper, Chambersburg, was made public on Tuesday.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George N. Perry, Fayetteville.

Return from Wedding Trip: Mr. and Mrs. Luther S. Staub, married recently at Littlestown, returned Sunday from a wedding trip of two weeks. Mr. Staub is employed as druggist at the News Stand Drug Store, Center Square.

Herriot Warns Against Germans: Paris, June 16—Premier Herriot, replying to a Matin reporter Sunday relative to the selection of his cabinet, lays stress on the choice of General Nollet, head of the Allied Military Control commission in Germany as Minister of War. "Germany is now engaged in carrying out tactics similar to those after the peace of Tilsit in 1807, raising a large army camouflaged by gymnastic associations."

"Our cabinet is animated by a kindly spirit toward Germany and we are ready to assist to the best of our ability the young German democracy, but we will display merciless severity to the German Nationalists. We have to uphold France's rights as well as those of the democracies of the world."

Marriage License Granted: A marriage license has been granted by Clerk of the Courts Luther Plank to Charles A. White and Emma M. Baker, both of Freedom township.

Personal: Misses Jane Robinson, Mildred Myers, Hermine and Gesla Grimm, Margaret and Mary Stouffer, Evelyn Thomas, Jessica Weaver, Belle Miller, Ruth Reaser and Ethel Wichter have left for Atlantic City where they will be employed at the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Menchey, North Washington street, announce the birth of a son on Saturday afternoon.

ALLIES NEAR ANCONA, HUGE ITALIAN PORT

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Rome, June 22 (AP)—Allied and Italian troops are within 32 miles of Ancona, prize Italian port on the Adriatic coast, while Eighth Army troops are approaching Camerino, approximately 35 miles east and a little north of Perugia. Allied Headquarters announced today.

American forces to the west have pushed on 15 airline miles northwest of Grosseto. In all land operations, although weather has improved, misty conditions are preventing cross-country movements on a large scale, a communique said.

The advance toward Ancona, ranking next to Venice in port facilities in that coastal sector, was made by troops which have reached Fermo, only 65 airline miles below Rimini, the eastern anchor of the so-called Pisa-Florence-Rimini line, where the fleeing Germans may offer stiff resistance against the Allied drive.

Strong Resistance
Eighth Army troops have also approached Nocera Umbra, 14 miles west of Camerino. Limited gains were made north of the newly-taken ancient fortress city of Perugia, and in the Lake Trasimeno area west of Perugia, despite strong resistance.

A field dispatch from Correspondent Sid Feder said casualties inflicted upon the Germans during the past 41 days of the Allied offensive in Italy were estimated unofficially at between 80,000 and 100,000 killed, wounded and captured. More than 27,000 Nazis have been taken prisoner.

The Mediterranean air force stepped up its activity, making 1,100 individual plane flights in attacking shipping in Livorno harbor, battle area targets and a railway at Ventimiglia on the Italian Riviera. There were no losses.

The communique disclosed that in a "spirited naval engagement" in connection with the ousting of the Germans from Elba, light coastal forces torpedoed three loaded enemy lighters attempting to evacuate troops, and possibly sank a fourth. In another engagement a single enemy lighter was sunk.

(The Berlin radio said German troops were evacuated from the island of Pianosa, south of Elba, and the island of Palmaria, between the mainland and Elba, at the same time the Allies seized Elba.)

LEADERS CONFER

Rome, June 22 (AP)—King Peter and his Prime Minister, Ivan S. Basile, conferred with the Allied high command in Italy today concerning the military situation in Yugoslavia and later were expected to tour the Italian front as guests of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander.

REDS LAUNCH 2 NEW DRIVES AGAINST FINNS

London, June 22 (AP)—The Red Army hurled masses of men and equipment into two new drives on a broad front north of Lake Ladoga today in an effort to make a quick end of the war with Finland, already reported in the throes of a government upheaval which may be the prelude to a bid for peace.

Launching of the drives was announced last night in a Moscow communique, which also disclosed that Soviet forces advancing from captured Viipuri on the Karelian Isthmus south of Lake Ladoga were within 20 miles of the border fixed at the end of the 1939-40 Finnish-Russian war.

Invasion Birthday
The new Russian offensives were launched on the third anniversary of the German invasion of the Soviet Union, and apparently were aimed at clearing the Murmansk-Leningrad railway of Finnish forces.

One of the thrusts was launched along the Svir river, between Lakes Ladoga and Onega (Onezhskoe), approximately 150 to 200 miles northeast of Viipuri. The other was started about 100 miles further north, above Lake Onega, and cranked Finnish lines east of Medvezhorsk, at the northwestern tip of the lake.

The broadcast Russian communique said that in the first day of the attack along the Svir more than 200 populated places had been occupied, including Voznesene, a district center of the Leningrad region.

Soviet troops hitting west from the top of Lake Onega, have closed in on Medvezhorsk, and are fighting in its outskirts, another Moscow broadcast declared.

Plunging beyond the burning ruins of Viipuri, other Red Army units were within 120 miles of the Finnish capital of Helsinki after taking more than 50 additional places, the Soviet communique added.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

H. H. THOMAS'

from time to time by Mr. Thomas. Council raised the point that deputy or special tax collectors have authority to act only with the approval of the taxing district and after posting proper surety. "No attempt was made to post bond with the council in the present case," Brown said.

Mr. Basshore said this afternoon that amounts could have been placed in the special fund at the Gettysburg National bank during the period in which the Jamison agency is alleged to have deposited the money without his knowledge. Because the special fund is used only to pay bonds it is balanced infrequently, Mr. Basshore said. The borough treasurer said he had collected on a few accounts brought to him by Mr. Thomas. He said according to his understanding with Mr. Thomas he sent out notices as justice of the peace notifying the delinquents that Mr. Thomas would bring action if they did not pay. Mr. Basshore added that 20 per cent is the regular collection fees for justices.

Several Collectors
The taxes apparently were collected by several members of the Jamison firm with names appearing to be Charles V. Swengle, deputy and Charles M. Snyder, deputy, appearing on several notices of back taxes due sent out by the delinquent tax collectors. Three notices, seen by a reporter for The Gettysburg Times today, bore a stamp, "paid, George P. Jamison, Harrisburg." Two were signed by "Snyder" and the other by "Swengle" as deputies for Harry H. Thomas.

J. Herbert Weikert, present tax collector said this afternoon that the deposits from May 9 on were not made by him. The last deposit made in the special account by Mr. Weikert in May was on May 2 when he placed $110.33 from several duplicates in the account.

Mr. Weikert's next deposit in the special fund was made June 2 when he deposited $473.31 in the account. The latest deposit was June 17 when he placed $8,390 in the account.

Previously the rule has been that shoes can be transferred among individuals only in case of a returned shoe the dealer is required to return the ration certificate.

forms bear the words, "List of Voters by Military Ballots" and contains space for the names, voting residence and serial number of the registered service men and women. No military addresses are given on the lists for security reasons. The lists will be filled out July 7 and a copy sent to the county election board and another placed on the walls of the voting place so that anyone in the district may challenge the right to vote of any of those listed to the ballot. The list of voters will be certified by the judge of elections and the majority and minority inspector.

The certification reads as follows: "We hereby certify that the above is a true and correct list of electors eligible to receive military ballots as compiled from information received on Military Ballot Day. Election board of (name) district, ward and city, signed by judge of elections, majority inspector, minority inspector."

The county election board's biggest job will be keeping track of changes of address by the military. It was said today. Already 30 change of address cards have been sent to the county commissioners' office for men registered during the present canvass. In each case the election board sends another change of address form to the person sending in the first change so that an accurate record can be kept of the addresses of those in military service.

What can you say to a wounded soldier?

Never mind the sympathy—he doesn't want it! In his mind, he did his duty, and part of his duty was stopping an enemy bullet.

You have a duty, too, in this war. Part of your duty is to buy War Bonds with every dime and dollar you can.

So simply say "thanks" to a wounded soldier, by buying your full share of War Bonds in the Fifth War Loan. Don't expect credit—you can't match his sacrifice by merely lending your money. But don't be ashamed, either—if you've done your duty, you've shown your gratitude—the way he wants you to.

Say "thanks" to every American soldier—double the Bonds you bought before.

from time to time by Mr. Thomas. Council raised the point that deputy or special tax collectors have authority to act only with the approval of the taxing district and after posting proper surety. "No attempt was made to post bond with the council in the present case," Brown said.

Mr. Basehore said this afternoon that amounts could have been placed in the special fund at the Gettysburg National bank during the period in which the Jamison agency is alleged to have deposited the money without his knowledge. Because the special fund is used only to pay bonds it is balanced infrequently. Mr. Basehore said. The borough treasurer said he had collected on a few accounts brought to him by Mr. Thomas. He said according to his understanding with Mr. Thomas he sent out notices as Justice of the peace notifying the delinquents that Mr. Thomas would bring action if they did not pay. Mr. Basehore added that 20 per cent is the regular collection fees for justices.

Several Collectors
The taxes apparently were collected by several members of the Jamison firm with names appearing to be Charles V. Swengle, deputy and Charles M. Snyder, deputy, appearing on several notices of back taxes due sent out by the delinquent tax collectors. Three notices, seen by a reporter for The Gettysburg Times today, bore a stamp—"paid, George F. Jamison, Harrisburg." Two were signed by "Snyder" and the other by "Swengle" as deputies for Harry H. Thomas.

J. Herbert Weikert, present tax collector said this afternoon that the deposits from May 9 on were not made by him. The last deposit made in the special account by Mr. Weikert in May was on May 2 when he placed $110.33 from several duplicates in the account.
Mr. Weikert's next deposit in the special fund was made June 2 when he deposited $473.31 in the account. The latest deposit was June 17 when he placed $8,300 in the account.

shoppers to take War Ration Book 3 with them when they shop for rationed shoes for Airplane stamps 1 and 2, each good for a pair of rationed shoes, are in that book. No store can accept loose shoe stamps.

The state OPA office also said that, beginning June 26, persons may sell or return a new rationed stove to a dealer, distributor or manufacturer. Previously the rule has been that stoves can be transferred among individuals only. In case of a returned stove the dealer is required to return the ration certificate.

forms bear the words, "List of Voters by Military Ballots" and contains space for the names, voting residence and serial number of the registered service men and women. No military addresses are given on the lists for security reasons. The lists will be filled out July 7 and a copy sent to the county election board and another placed on the walls of the voting place so that anyone in the district may challenge the right to vote of any of those listed to the ballot. The list of voters will be certified by the judge of elections and the majority and minority inspector.

The certification reads as follows: "We hereby certify that the above is a true and correct list of electors eligible to receive military ballots as compiled from information received on Military Ballot Day. Election board of (name) district, ward and city, signed by judge of elections, majority inspector, minority inspector."

The county election board's biggest job will be keeping track of changes of address by the military. It was said today. Already 30 change of address cards have been sent to the county commissioners' office for men registered during the present canvass. In each case the election board sends another change of address form to the person sending in the first change so that an accurate record can be kept of the addresses of those in military service.

What can you say to a wounded soldier?

Never mind the sympathy—he doesn't want it! In his mind, he did his duty, and part of his duty was stopping an enemy bullet.

You have a duty, too, in this war. Part of your duty is to buy War Bonds with every dime and dollar you can.

So simply say "thanks" to a wounded soldier, by buying your full share of War Bonds in the Fifth War Loan. Don't expect credit—you can't match his sacrifice by merely lending your money. But don't be ashamed, either—if you've done your duty, you've shown your gratitude—the way he wants you to.

Say "thanks" to every American soldier—double the Bonds you bought before.

Fires

In connection with the purchase of empires for the local fire company and the introduction of water to the town, it is well to note a few of the more destructive fires in the community.

The Otter hotel burned in 1845, it was the oldest house standing on the Square at that time. The Elder and Toney barn, which stood in the Lutheran church grounds, burned in 1848 and the cornice of the Lutheran church steeple caught fire from it. The chances of the church burning were great, as there was not sufficient force to throw the water up so high from the engine. So the men went into the steeple where the bell was located and water was passed through the steeple stairway to them. They flooded the roof, throwing the empty buckets to the ground, but all to no purpose.

When all hope was gone, James Gallagher volunteered to cut the cornice away. The men placed a rope around his body to support him and he stepped out on the roof and cut away the blazing cornice. It fell finally and thus the steeple was saved.

Great Fire Of 1863

Emmitsburg's great fire occurred June 15, 1863. It originated in the livery stable of Guthrie and Beam and over 50 buildings were consumed before the fire ended.

The fire commenced at 11 o'clock in the night and did not get under control until seven in the morning. The hotel was the last building to burn. Saving the house of Decklemyer saved the upper portion of the town.

The people in the country around Emmitsburg heard the church bells ring and some came to within a mile of town, looking at the blazing buildings. But all feared to come in, as they thought the Rebel army had fired Emmitsburg as they had Chambersburg.

Great Desolation

Word was sent to Mt. St. Mary's college shortly after midnight when Rev. John McCloskey called all the larger boys and hands together and brought them to Emmitsburg to assist the volunteer firemen. They came in time, as the citizens were fagged and tired, and they worked manfully at the engine and in supplying water.

Oh, the desolation a fire makes. Most of the people lost their all and many never recovered. Money was sent from the cities to aid the people of the town, most of whom had lost most, or all of their possessions, in the great fire which gutted out most of the town.

Hill North Of Town

The oldest residents can remember when the hill north of town was called Robinson's hill, but who was Robinson? Philip Nunemaker had the honor of having it called after him next. He had lived in town as early as 1808 and no doubt he purchased the property from Robinson Nunemaker died in 1829 and his widow remained on this property a few years when Henry Falter bought it. Then it became known as Falter's Hill. Later John Sebald purchased the property and following the precedents of the past the hill was called Sebald's hill.

Painters

This occupation has not always been one alone, with early painters usually connecting it with some other calling. Cabinet makers and chair makers were the principal persons to follow the painting business until Manning came here before 1850 and painted St. Joseph's. Jacob S. Gelwick was another early painter to do nothing but that business. Other early painters of the town were Samuel Whitlode, Blackford Campbell, and Barnabas Riley who were also chair makers. George Gelwick, John Adelsberger and James Gelwick.

Grave Diggers

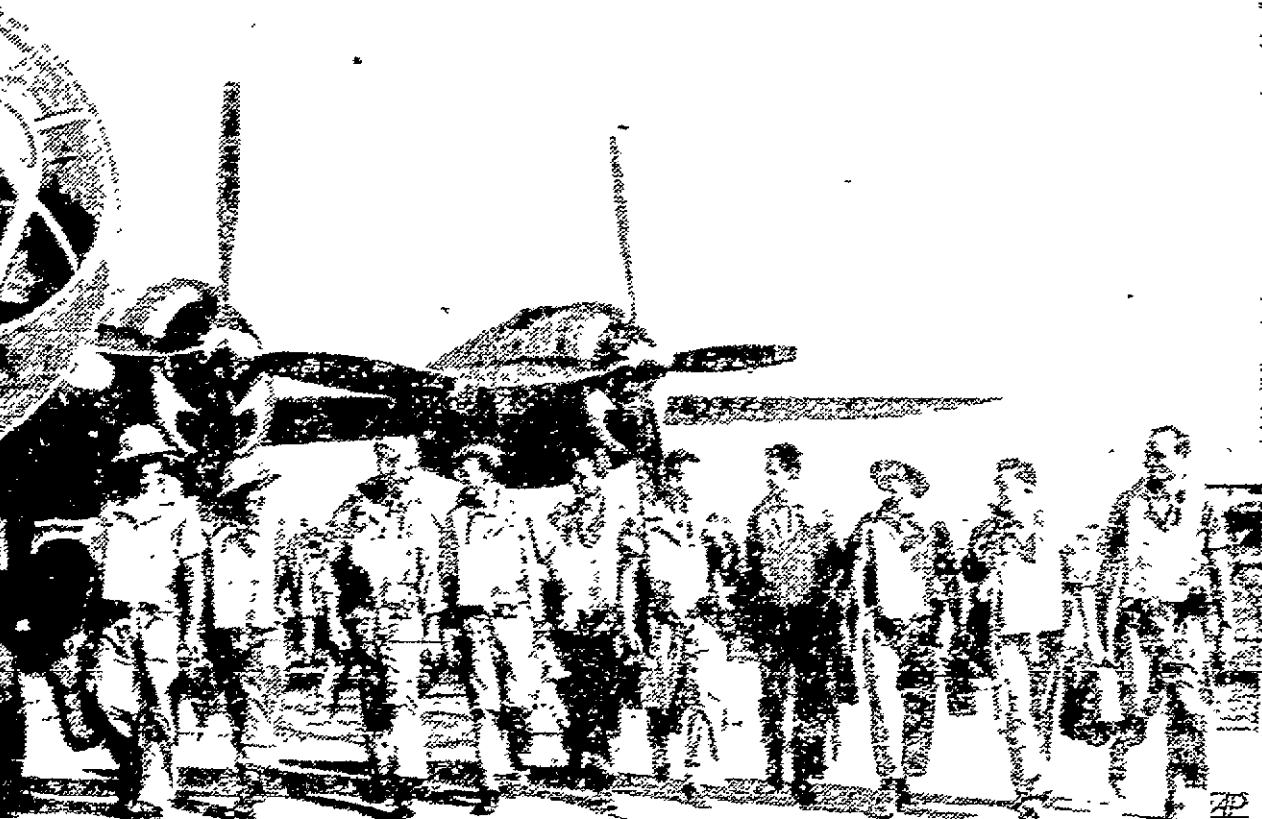

In early days a custom was for the neighbors to volunteer to dig the graves when interments were to be made on the farms, or in country cemeteries.

In town the early grave diggers were John Logan in 1811, Tom Bones, Thomas Butler, Sebastian Adelsberger, Jacob Dugphorn, Jacob Favreite, Thomas Butler, John Welty and John Glass. Their work today requires grave diggers to dig the grave four and one-half to five feet deep, but the early diggers went not over three feet. The greater depth was required later for sanitary purposes. Because of the slight depth of the early graves the gases arising from decaying bodies made close proximity to some graves unpleasant. John Logan received $3 for digging graves in 1811.

Crime and Punishment

Along in the 1830s a man named Markey committed a crime for which he was sent to the penitentiary from up in Harbaugh's Valley. Mr. Newey was his principal accuser. After serving his term Markey left Baltimore, coming through Emmitsburg in the evening. He stopped at Black's tavern for a drink and then proceeded to the mountain to take revenge upon Newey. Newey had butchered during the day and after night put Markey killed him Newey came down the stairs to meet the same fate as did Mrs. Newey and the children. Markey carried away with him a vest, watch and a few other articles.

The news was printed in a Frederick paper and a few days later a policeman sat in the General Wayne hotel in Baltimore reading the account. The detective heard the steps of a man as he entered the bar-room, looked up and recognizing Markey from the description in the paper, arrested him. Markey had the watch on his person, and later was tried and hanged in Frederick.

Pulling Mill

The Pulling mill on Middle creek was carried on by Nathaniel Gregson for years prior to 1940. In the fifties Joseph Coubertson manufactured cloth blankets there till after the Civil war. In 1871 John People conducted the mill and after him Charles Deeg took over the place. The mill was abandoned for lack of customers and torn down in the 1880s.

Items of Interest

Copying from an old ledger, dates 1811 to 1812, I found the following items of interest:
A negro Pol. sold for $267.67 April 2, 1812, to William Moreland.
The following articles were sold at prices named: Lodging in hotel and bill of whiskey, 12 cents; coffee, 25 cents; turpentine, 50 cents a pint; one oil run, 12 1/2 cents; flour, 37.50; gallon whiskey, $1.12 1/2; bacon, 12 cents; brown sugar, 12 cents; loaf sugar, 25 cents; flaxseed oil, $1 12 1/2; brandy since 12 cents; salt 12 cents, nails 12 cents a pound, butter 14 cents, oats, 62 1/2 cents, six chickens, 53 cents, one egg whiskey, 67 cents; half lottery ticket on Susquehanna Valley, 68 cents.

Shoes 46 Cents Per Pair

Old Mrs. Moreland sold her home-made linen to Hughs' store for 47 and 52 cents per yard, selling May, 1811, 467 yards at 52 cents, 99 days credit interest after 90 days; cotton sold for 45 cents a yard, glass tumblers, 25 cents each, brandy and wine, $2.50 a gallon; white lead, 25 cents a pound. The itinerant shoemaker charged 40 cents per pair for making shoes. Women hired out for $3 a month. For making a pair of breeches, 23 cents; making coats, $1, making slips, 37 1/2 cents; jacket, 23 cents; writing, 12 1/2 cents a pound. Iron sold for seven cents a pound, making nails four dollars per thousand, as all nails were made by hand in 1811. Vinegar was 50 cents a gallon, salt, $1.25 a bushel; 8 by 10 glass, 11 cents apiece; fur hat $3; ten plate stores, $18; sole leather, 40 cents a pound; one oil whiskey and dinner at the Eagle hotel cost 31 1/2 cents.

The death of Catherine George, entailed the following expenses in 1811 — to John Row for coffin, $9; digging grave $3; one pair of stockings purchased from James Hughs' store, $1; Margaret Mittle eight days attendance before death, $9; four pounds of candles, $1.

Dutch cheese sold for nine cents; unbleached muslin was 45 cents a yard, one pound of brimstone, 12 1/2 cents, sheeing horse, 31 1/2 cents per snoot; flour of sulphur, 50 cents a pound; postage, 40 cents an ounce.

John Devoy, tailor, in 1812 charged $3.33 to make a suit of clothes.

Runaway Slaves

During the days of slavery many negroes, slaves in Virginia and Maryland, ran away from their masters, with their objects to enter Pennsylvania at the nearest point. Many came through Emmitsburg and some thought our town was in Pennsylvania. Others, more knowing ones, avoided the town for they knew that here were negro catchers, as they were called, while men who watched for these escaping slaves for the reward ranged from $50 to $500. A few were arrested in the town, but as a general rule they gained their freedom once they arrived here. As many as a dozen would travel together, armed with clubs and pistols. It was dangerous to attempt to arrest such a body. Slaves escaped from their owners here. Felix Taney and Dr. James Shorb each had quite a number to run away, others a few. We were too near the Mason and Dixon line for slavery to exist. It was only by the kindest treatment that they could be kept.

The free black people living here, and we always had more free than slave, were helpers of these absconding slaves. Some of them were very loud in denouncing the negro catchers, amongst them Roderick Dorsey, who lived on the street up town. James McCullough got up the following trick on Roderick. McCullough backed his face and dressed in old clothes. Arrangements were made for the boys, large and small, to run him up town and he took shelter with Roderick. As soon as he entered the house and told Roderick he was a runaway, Dorsey closed the door. McCullough crept under the bed. Soon the boys were outside yelling that there was a runaway in Dorsey's house. McCullough raised up, upsetting the bed and escaping through the back door while the boys opened the front door and rushed through the house after McCullough much to Roderick's anger.

Britisher Offers Apology To Commons

London, June 22 (AP)—In a personal apology to the House of Commons, Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, British Minister of War Production, disclaimed today any intention of saying in a speech Tuesday that United States lend-lease aid to Britain had forced Japan into attacking Pearl Harbor because, he declared, such a statement was "manifestly untrue."

Lyttelton explained that in an interpolation in a speech which he delivered before the American Chamber of Commerce he had merely tried to make clear Britain's gratitude for aid given her by the United States before the Japanese attack upon Pearl Harbor.

He concluded: "I want to make it quite clear that I do not complain of being misinterpreted and that any misunderstanding is entirely my own fault."

London, June 22 (AP)—In a personal apology to the House of Commons, Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, British Minister of War Production, disclaimed today any intention of saying in a speech Tuesday that United States lend-lease aid to Britain had forced Japan into attacking Pearl Harbor because, he declared, such a statement was "manifestly untrue."

Lyttelton explained that in an interpolation in a speech which he delivered before the American Chamber of Commerce he had merely tried to make clear Britain's gratitude for aid given her by the United States before the Japanese attack upon Pearl Harbor.

He concluded: "I want to make it quite clear that I do not complain of being misreported and that any misunderstanding is entirely my own fault."

"I ask the House to believe that the fault was one of expression and not of intention, and I hope that this apology will undo any harm which the original words may have caused here or in the United States."

ODT ANNOUNCES REGULATIONS

Operators of commercial motor vehicles who need to purchase new equipment after July 1, should file their applications through the district offices of the Office of Defense Transportation, instead of the bureau of motor carriers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Edward R. Gisburne, district manager of the ODT's Hagerstown, Md., office, announced today.

All field work incidental to the rationing of new commercial vehicles will be handled by the highway transport department of the ODT, through transfer of this activity from the ICC, which has handled the allocations for the last two years, Mr. Gisburne explained. Under the new setup, the ODT's regional division will process the applications in the field.

New commercial vehicles do not include integral motor buses, which are allocated under different procedures, Mr. Gisburne said. The shifting of allocation operations from the ICC to the ODT is expected to effect administrative economies as well as to expedite the processing of applications because of the larger number of field offices available to operators of commercial motor vehicles.

District managers operating through the ODT district offices will be the local allocation officers under the new program. The ODT district office at Hagerstown has charge of 20 counties including Adams, Franklin and Fulton, Pennsylvania, and areas in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

Plight Of Colleges Subject Of Inquiry

Washington, June 22 (AP)—A special study of the plight of colleges hit hard by wartime conditions was authorized today by the House Rules committee.

The resolution by Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts empowers the House education committee to start the inquiry as soon as possible after the summer recess.

In the British Army, all war commissions, with certain technical and professional exceptions, are granted from the ranks.

YOUR INVASION!

FROM General Bradley, leading the Invasion ground forces, right through every rank, American men now face a brutal, desperate, able enemy. For this invasion has only begun—before our fighters lies a hard and bloody task, one that demands all their courage, backed by all your faith in their ultimate victory.

That faith will be tested many times in this invasion—in grim struggles, setbacks, possibly even temporary defeats. It will be up to you to remember that early victories usually only mean more savage opposition from a foe made more bitter, more ruthless as the shadow of his doom grows larger—up to you to keep that faith in days and nights of gloom as well as in hours of triumph.

There is little that you can do to show that you realize what they must face, perhaps for many months. But one thing you can do—back the attack with every dollar you can spare! Let the Bonds you buy in this greatest of Drives be the measure of your belief in their ultimate victory!

For best canning results use your Gas Range

Home canning is even more vital this year. Here's why. Next winter there may be a shortage of some essential foods because seventy per cent of the fruit pack and half the vegetable pack will go to our armed forces and allies.

But for good health and plenty of vitality you need two fruits and two vegetables daily . . . 90 quarts a year. So, start your home canning now. The directions are easy to understand, the work is not hard and canning is mighty economical, too.

Now is the time to start canning . . . Call the Home Service Department of your Gas company for prompt, accurate information on all home canning problems.

For best results take these simple precautions:

1. Jars should be tested for a perfect seal and thoroughly washed in water hot water, then boiled in clear water for at least 15 minutes.
2. Examine jars and covers for cracks, nicks and dents. Do not use imperfect jars or lids.
3. Be sure to expel air with a knife blade. Do not fill jars too full—allow space for boiling. Fill sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch of top for fruits, 1 inch for vegetables.
4. Wipe top of rubber free of seeds, pulp or syrup.
5. Cool all jars upright to assure perfect seals. Avoid kitchen drafts. Set to cool on surface with several thicknesses of cloth.
6. Follow canning directions carefully—this is most important.

"HOME CANNING"—a booklet that solves your canning problems in a jiffy, may be secured merely by stopping into your Gas company office.

BRICKER GOES TO CHICAGO TO DIRECT DRIVE

By JACK BELL

Chicago, June 22 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio came to Chicago today to take personal command of a last lap drive for a Republican presidential nomination many party leaders openly conceded to Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

The Ontario hoped to spark a hotel lobby campaign for the support of nearly 500 delegates still uncommitted in many polls. The convention, opening Monday, has 1,057 delegates with 529 needed to nominate.

Arriving early, Bricker scheduled a 10:30 a. m. news conference. J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman and "staff Dewey" leader, arranged a similar conference 30 minutes later.

Bricker's backers claimed new support with J. Frank McDermott, Atlee publisher, reporting the Ontario would get 17 of Indiana's 29 votes. Indianapolis reports said previously a secret poll showed all but three for Dewey.

Landon picks Dewey. Austin W. Wood, Wheeling, W. Va., publisher and convention delegate said more than half of the West Virginia delegation of 19 now favor Bricker.

An array of party leaders, including former Gov. Alf H. Landon of Kansas, predicted it would be Dewey in a breeze.

H. Alexander Smith, New Jersey GOP senatorial nominee, told a reporter he heard "serious proposals" that Bricker "make it unanimous" by taking the convention floor to suggest Dewey's nomination.

Told of this A. N. Hoopingarner, a Bricker publicity director, laughed it off, while another said, "We think it should be the other way around—Dewey should nominate Bricker."

Asked by National Chairman Harrison E. Spangler to complete a report for the convention by next Tuesday morning, the platform drafting resolutions committee strove to end public hearings today and get down to the word scratching work of forming the party's official declarations of principle.

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—The commonwealth is carried from providing new uniforms for officers of the Pennsylvania State Guard, the Justice department ruled yesterday, but an allowance of $150 a year "may be given to each officer if prescribed by the Governor and if found necessary for furnishing the officers with uniforms, arms and equipment."

Equipment and uniforms for enlisted men were not affected by the ruling.

CIVILIANS GET MORE APPLES IN '44 HARVESTING

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—While most of the apples produced in Pennsylvania will again go to the armed forces, or to lend-lease, the Department of Agriculture reported that there will be more apples for civilians in 1944 than last year.

The Bureau of Markets has already prepared for a big apple inspection program at harvest time, open for canning and for fresh market consumption, declared D. M. James, in charge of the fruit and vegetable division.

First indication that the present apple crop would be above normal came when the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service in a statement on conditions for June 1 showed that commercial apples were 73 per cent of normal compared with 63 per cent last year and 65 per cent for the 8-year period, 1935-42.

Crops Behind Schedule

Planting of most crops, greatly delayed during the cold wet spring, was reported still behind schedule by Agriculture Department officials. Much corn and some oats remained to be planted, particularly in the northern half of the state.

Good yields of small grain were in prospect, with wheat estimated to produce 19,000,000 bushels, or 5,700,000 more than last year. The oats crop was reported to be double that of last year, with a forecast of 27,621,000 bushels.

Wet weather held up complete potato planting in the northern and plateau areas, but in the Lehigh-Northampton-section potatoes were all planted, most fields cultivated and spraying underway.

Tobacco crops were also retarded, since many fields were too wet for transplanting during the latter part of May. Planting went ahead rapidly with the arrival of warm weather, and transplanting started in the Clinton-Lycoming-Flores tobacco district.

Hay was reported at 92 per cent of normal, and pasture lands throughout the state were in excellent condition.

York Eggs Plentiful

York county ranked first in all counties in the production of eggs during 1943, but Lancaster county had the most chickens, the Crop Reporting Service disclosed this week.

Egg production on York county farms totaled 20,335,070 dozen for the year, an increase of nearly two million eggs over the previous year. Lancaster hens produced 20,154,000 dozen for second place.

Other counties in the order of their production were Bucks, Thru with 11,258,549 dozen; Berks, fourth, 8,735,040 dozen; Bradford, fifth, 6,519,509 dozen and Montgomery, sixth, 6,395,600 dozen.

Although Lancaster yielded first place in egg production the county held the lead in the number of chickens on its farms with 2,532,900 out of the state total of 24,919,000. York county was second with 2,030,070 chickens.

"It's a queer odor," he said strangely. "I don't like it."

"It isn't wet," she said.

"No, remember the ground overhead is decidedly hairy."

They walked slowly stooping a little, as the height was little more than five feet. The ground, beneath the flashlight, was packed hard, and dry. If she didn't turn to look back over her shoulder and see the terrifying black shadows they made on the walls, the tunnel was not too frightening. That is, not until—

Dirks worked stealthily trying every possibility to spring the release that held the secret door. His face was white. The flashlight shone in Spring's hands. His fingers tumbled on a pine knot and suddenly the door swung back, knocking him against the side of the tunnel. He clutched the light into the opening and discovered that they had come out in the storeroom of the candle-shop, back of the long counter-stacked row of barrels containing the stored wax.

"Apparently," Dirks said, no one in the shop knew this entrance existed. For there certainly would be no advantage in storing these barrels at this point."

It was a good ten minutes before two of the barrels were moved out and room made to come out of the tunnel and close the secret door. It swung in place again, the boards fitting into the pattern of the old, unfinished wall. Dirks helped Spring through the narrow opening he had made between the barrel rows, and then returned to replace the last two barrels Spring leaned weakly against the row of shipping crates on the opposite side of the room and waited for Dirks.

They went back to the big house silently.

Halfway up the path, she found courage to ask, "What happened to him?"

Dirks' voice was tired. "I don't know. Whatever is back of all this is more sinister than anyone realized. Look, Spring," he warned. "Don't tell this to anyone. Not anyone."

"I don't know," Dirk said again. "I want to get to the police with what we discovered tonight. It isn't safe for anyone else to know."

"You think my aunts are mixed in this?" she asked heavily.

"I can't help wondering," Dirk answered honestly, "if the knowledge of this isn't part of the explanation of Drusilla's oddness."

"Shall we tell Gil?"

"Not tonight. I want to think this over. To protect Drusilla, he might mess up the works before the police get busy."

The porch darkness covered their shock. Dirk said, calmly enough: "We've covered the grounds pretty thoroughly. I'm tired. Think I'll go to bed."

Gil's voice was warm with understanding in the darkness. "Candlewood under moonlight isn't bad! They let it go at that, letting him think it had been a pleasant hour out of all the grim ones. Spring accepted the tall glass of root beer Theron served, but she was too stunned by the utter horror of the secret tunnel to know what she drank.

"It's a good thing," Gil remarked, putting out his cigar that had made a comfortable glow in the blackness, "that the power lines didn't fall. We'd have been hard put for food storage."

"Gil," Dirk asked suddenly, "is there any way to contact your civilian defense post?"

Gil said, "No. But I'm hoping when I don't show up for duty tonight they'll know something is wrong here."

Everyone locked their door that night. Next day it began to rain again.

Gil said, "I'm going to finish the candle packing at the shop today. Moira and Theron and I will be there. I'm holding the rest of you on your honor to stay here inside Candlewood until I come back."

what we discovered tonight. It isn't safe for anyone else to know."

"You think my aunts are mixed in this?" she asked heavily.

"I can't help wondering," Dirk answered honestly, "if the knowledge of this isn't part of the explanation of Drusilla's oddness."

"Shall we tell Gil?"

"Not tonight. I want to think this over. To protect Drusilla, he might mess up the works before the police get busy."

The porch darkness covered their shock. Dirk said, calmly enough: "We've covered the grounds pretty thoroughly. I'm tired. Think I'll go to bed."

Gil's voice was warm with understanding in the darkness. "Candlewood under moonlight isn't bad! They let it go at that, letting him think it had been a pleasant hour out of all the grim ones. Spring accepted the tall glass of root beer Theron served, but she was too stunned by the utter horror of the secret tunnel to know what she drank.

"It's a good thing," Gil remarked, putting out his cigar that had made a comfortable glow in the blackness, "that the power lines didn't fall. We'd have been hard put for food storage."

"Gil," Dirk asked suddenly, "is there any way to contact your civilian defense post?"

Gil said, "No. But I'm hoping when I don't show up for duty tonight they'll know something is wrong here."

Everyone locked their door that night. Next day it began to rain again.

Gil said, "I'm going to finish the candle packing at the shop today. Moira and Theron and I will be there. I'm holding the rest of you on your honor to stay here inside Candlewood until I come back."

More Comfort wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEREETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmly so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEREETH today at any drug store.

Boy And Girl Are Fatally Burned

Pittsburgh, June 22 (AP)—A brother and a sister, children of a Marine corporal who had returned to his Quantico, Virginia, base Sunday after a visit with his family, were burned to death today in a fire that swept their north side apartment.

The victims were Phyllis Destefano, 7, and her brother, Guy, 5, children of Cpl. and Mrs. Philip Destefano.

Five other persons were routed in the fire that started on the first floor and spread upward through the partitions of the two-story building.

TAYLOR RETURNS

Rome, June 22 (AP)—Myron Taylor returned to Rome Monday night after an absence of more than 18 months to resume his post as President Roosevelt's special representative to the Vatican. Taylor, who last was in Italy in November, 1942, had no immediate comment to make upon his mission.
